

The Fresno Weekly Republican.

VOL. XVI.

FRESNO, FRESNO COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1892

NO. 7

MAY BE GROVER.

Indications Point to His Election.

NEW YORK'S MAJORITY

The People's Party Cut a Big Figure.

CALIFORNIA STILL REPUBLICAN

Chairman Carter Says That Results Show Harrison to be Elected by a Good Majority.

NEW YORK.

New York, November 8.—Chairman Carter issued the following bulletin at midnight:

"On returns received by the Republican national committee at midnight Harrison and Reid have carried California, Maine, Massachusetts, 10 votes of Michigan, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Idaho, Colorado, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Montana, North Dakota, Washington, Wyoming, Nebraska, Indiana and Delaware, or 22 electoral votes—a majority of six in the electoral college. Our own returns at this hour also show that we have more than an even chance to carry West Virginia."

Chairman Hart of the Democratic committee says that he has no doubt of Cleveland and Stevenson's election. He claims New York, New Jersey, Indiana and Illinois, and thinks Harrison has lost some of the western states.

AN OUTLINE.

The Tribune will tomorrow morning say: "Returns received at the hour of writing are not satisfactory to the Republicans. It can only be said the returns are not at hand to justify the assumption that the several great western states have given their electoral votes to Cleveland, and without these votes he is still in danger. It is disappointing that the Republicans failed to carry New York. The machinery in the great Democratic cities turned out majorities sufficient to overpower the votes of Republican counties which appear to have been down below expectations."

In the absence of returns from any considerable part of New Jersey it can only be assumed that the state has gone Democratic as usual.

Connecticut is claimed by both parties, but returns appear to favor the Democrats. With New York, Connecticut and New Jersey, four or five probable votes from Michigan, the south made solid by fraud on a wholesale denial of the right of suffrage, Cleveland would have about 216 electoral votes, needing only three of Indiana and Illinois to assure his election. At the present writing, both parties claim Indiana and Illinois, but without sufficient fall returns to place the result in either state beyond doubt.

New York city complete gives Cleveland 174,835; Harrison 98,955; Cleveland's majority, 76,125.

New York's total vote for mayor in the city is given 199,029; Einstein, 95,378; Hicks, 231; James, 600; Bogardus, 2355, with twenty election district minor.

Chairman Carter says that even if the lone of New York is conceded, with Indiana the election of Harrison is assured, and a Republican victory in that state is assured. The vote of Indiana, added to other Republican votes in the electoral college, insures the re-election of President Harrison. Eliminating entirely from consideration the state of New York the Republicans still elect with the vote of Connecticut, West Virginia and Delaware without the vote of Indiana, but having the vote of Indiana assured we are not driven to our third line. Benjamin Harrison will be the next President of the United States by a virtual majority of the votes cast in the electoral college.

INDIANA.

INDIANAPOLIS, November 8.—At the election in Indiana, four parties, Republicans, Democrats, Populists and Prohibitionists, all had electoral and state tickets in the field. The two minor parties had candidates for congress in each district, and a county ticket in nearly every county in the state. At the time the polls closed indications pointed to the largest vote ever polled in the state.

Alico county gives Cleveland 4500 majority against 300 in 1888.

Shay county gives Cleveland 900, a gain of 238 over 1888.

Fifty precincts outside the city give Harrison 4178, Cleveland 3531, a net Republican gain of 278. Chase, Democratic, for governor 4147; Matthews, 3615. This indicates the result in the state to be very close.

Sixty precincts outside the city give Harrison 6229; Cleveland 5470—not Republican gain of 463 over 1888.

Returns up to midnight show seventy precincts out of 203 outside the city, give Harrison 7247; Cleveland 6296, a Republican gain of 467.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA, November 8.—The official count is progressing very slowly owing to the complicated ballot and the unusually heavy vote on the state ticket. It is generally conceded that General Lilly and Major McDaniel, Republican candidates for congress-at-large, and John Dean for the supreme court, will be given a heavy majority. In the Philadelphia five congressional districts the Republicans carried the first, second, fourth and fifth. The greatest interest centered in the third, Samuel Randall's old district. Though heavily Democratic it is conceded that it has been carried by the present incumbent, McAleer, who was endorsed by the Republicans and Independents.

VIRGINIA.

RICHMOND, November 8.—At midnight half of the counties and all the large cities in Virginia give Cleveland a plural majority of between 25,000 and 30,000.

ILLINOIS.

Chicago, 10 p.m.—This probability is that Cleveland has carried Illinois and Atgeld, Democratic candidate for Governor, from 1900 to 1890 majority. Chicago will give the Democratic ticket 90,000 majority, and the balance of Cook county will reduce that to 2500. Republican headquarters do not claim over 10,000, but 15,000 for Fifer outside of Cook county.

The Daily News extra claims Illinois for Cleveland by over 20,000.

NEBRASKA.

OMAHA, November 8.—A much heavier vote was cast in Nebraska than was anticipated by the campaign managers of all parties. Fully three-quarters of all Democratic votes was given to the Weaver electors to the direct vote for Harrison cuts very little figure. Returns are coming in very slow, and it will be ten hours before the result can be known, but figures largely indicate the success of the Weaver electors.

Lincoln—a dozen precincts outside of this county, received up to 11 p.m., show the general purpose on the part of Democrats to vote for Weaver electors, but no estimate can be had on the state ticket other than a slight falling off in the independent vote.

Byron, Democrat, is elected congressman in the First district.

KANSAS.

TOKA, November 8.—Kansas gives a majority for the Weaver electors, but the Republicans have saved the state ticket.

Partial returns from the seventh congressional district, now represented by Jerry Simpson, indicates his defeat.

Meier returns from various counties indicate that the Weaver fusion ticket has been elected by a small majority, but the fusion ticket is defeated. The poll was very heavy, but not as heavy as expected, many Democrats abstaining from voting. Those who did go to the polls generally voted the Weaver electoral ticket.

Chairman Stevenson of Republican state central committee at midnight claimed everything. Harrison electors he said would have at least 10,000 majority and state ticket 20,000. He claims also election of full Republican congressional delegation. Chairman Braden of People's Party committee claims election of Weaver by 10,000 majority, but admitted doubt as to state ticket. He claims five of ten congressmen.

MINNESOTA.

St. Paul, November 8.—Owing to the strength of the Farmers' Alliance and the success of the People's Party in the state of Minnesota this year, the fighting ground of the Presidential campaign has been disturbed. This was made apparent when the Democratic leaders endorsed four electors of the People's Party. All the parties fought for the seven congressional districts. The weather all over the state today was clear but very cool, and so far as reported the vote cast was the fullest ever known.

AN OUTLINE.

The Tribune will tomorrow morning say: "Returns received at the hour of writing are not satisfactory to the Republicans. It can only be said the returns are not at hand to justify the assumption that the several great western states have given their electoral votes to Cleveland, and without these votes he is still in danger. It is disappointing that the Republicans failed to carry New York."

Chairman Hart of the Democratic committee says that he has no doubt of Cleveland and Stevenson's election. He claims New York, New Jersey, Indiana and Illinois, and thinks Harrison has lost some of the western states.

THE PEOPLE'S PARTY.

St. Paul, November 8.—Chairman Wall claims the state for Cleveland by 15,000 majority. Chairman Payne says Wisconsin will be in line for Harrison by 3000 and possibly 4000.

MISSOURI.

ST. LOUIS, November 8.—Chairman Wall, on presidential electors was between Republicans and People's Party, i induced by Democrats. Cold weather did not keep voters at home as the greatest interest was shown in the results.

SOUTH DAKOTA.

BISMARCK, November 8.—Election day on presidential electors was between Republicans and People's Party, i induced by Democrats. Cold weather did not keep voters at home as the greatest interest was shown in the results.

WISCONSIN.

MILWAUKEE, November 8.—Chairman Wall claims the state for Cleveland by 15,000 majority. Chairman Payne says Wisconsin will be in line for Harrison by 3000 and possibly 4000.

NEBRASKA.

BISMARCK, November 8.—Election day on presidential electors was between Republicans and People's Party, i induced by Democrats. Cold weather did not keep voters at home as the greatest interest was shown in the results.

MISSOURI.

RENO, November 8.—It is conceded by all parties that Weaver carries Nevada by 1500. Newlands, silver party, is selected to Congress. The result is not yet certain, but it is generally believed the silver party has a majority, which will insure the election of Stewart to the United States senate.

WASHINGTON.

TACOMA, November 8.—The Ledger's return from the state indicate that Harrison's plurality will be over 7000.

MISSOURI.

ST. LOUIS, November 8.—Meager dispatches from all parts of the state indicate non-Democratic gains of 25 per cent over 1888. This will give the state to Cleveland by 30,000 to 35,000 and to Stone, Democrat, for governor.

OHIO.

COLUMBUS, November 8.—At midnight Chairman Dink of the Republican state committee claims the election of the Republicans in the state of Ohio will have a plurality of from 23,000 to 25,000.

GEORGIA.

AUGUSTA, November 8.—Richmond county will be Black, Democrat, nearly 9000 majority.

Returns from other districts indicate that the Democrats will carry every district in Georgia and send a solid Democratic delegation to the next Congress. The Third Party candidates in every district were soundly beaten.

NEW JERSEY.

NEW YORK, November 8.—With the possible exception of the seventh district South Carolina returns a solid Democratic delegation to Congress, and chooses Cleveland elector in every district.

NEW JERSEY.

NEW YORK, November 8.—Not a half of the election districts of the state have been heard from at 11 p.m., but a careful estimate gives Cleveland 18,200, Harrison 10,400. Cleveland's plurality in 1888 was 7149.

VERMONT.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, November 8.—Returns from 50 Vermont towns give Harrison 12,765; Cleveland 5606; Baldwin 443; a Republican gain of 1634.

MAINE.

PORTLAND, November 8.—Indications are that the state will go Republican by a reduced majority.

STILL HOLLOW II.

STOCKTON, November 8.—Stockton had the world's tallest record at 2,082 for ten days, until an eastern horse, Kremlin, went the mile in 2,082 last Friday. Today Walter Maher drove the great California stallion a mile in 2,082 flat, winning the record again and showing that he can hold it. The day was fine and the horse was never better.

WITH Dynamite.

KANSAS CITY, November 8.—A special report says a train robbery occurred on the great California stallion a mile in 2,082 flat, winning the record again and showing that he can hold it. The day was fine and the horse was never better.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 8.—Complete returns from fifty-one precincts in thirty-eight counties give Harrison 1497, Cleveland 1330, Weaver 167. The same in 1888 gave Harrison 1527, Cleveland 1347—a net Republican loss of 37.

Preliminary bulletins indicate that the Weaver vote was drawn largely from the Republicans.

Republicans claim Hillborn, Republican, elected congressman of the third district.

Not a city precinct is yet obtainable and the count is progressing slowly.

The Republicans claim the county by a plurality of over 1500, and most of the county ticket is elected. Congressmen

Fifth district; James Mathew, Democrat; Twelfth district, James Healy, Democrat.

On the legislative ticket Baldwin, Republican, Pandolfini, Republican, Simpson,

Republican, and Andrus, Republican,

were probably elected; Finlayson, Democrat, and Kearns, Democrat, were elected.

Walter Moore, Republican, was defeated

for the Senate by Mathews, Democrat.

On the legislative ticket Baldwin, Republican, Pandolfini, Republican, Simpson,

Republican, and Andrus, Republican,

were probably elected; Finlayson, Democrat, and Kearns, Democrat, were elected.

Walter Moore, Republican, was defeated

for the Senate by Mathews, Democrat.

On the legislative ticket Baldwin, Republican, Pandolfini, Republican, Simpson,

Republican, and Andrus, Republican,

were probably elected; Finlayson, Democrat, and Kearns, Democrat, were elected.

Walter Moore, Republican, was defeated

for the Senate by Mathews, Democrat.

On the legislative ticket Baldwin, Republican, Pandolfini, Republican, Simpson,

Republican, and Andrus, Republican,

were probably elected; Finlayson, Democrat, and Kearns, Democrat, were elected.

Walter Moore, Republican, was defeated

for the Senate by Mathews, Democrat.

On the legislative ticket Baldwin, Republican, Pandolfini, Republican, Simpson,

Republican, and Andrus, Republican,

were probably elected; Finlayson, Democrat, and Kearns, Democrat, were elected.

Walter Moore, Republican, was defeated

for the Senate by Mathews, Democrat.

On the legislative ticket Baldwin, Republican, Pandolfini, Republican, Simpson,

Republican, and Andrus, Republican,

were probably elected; Finlayson, Democrat, and Kearns, Democrat, were elected.

Walter Moore, Republican, was defeated

for the Senate by Mathews, Democrat.

On the legislative ticket Baldwin, Repub-

THE C. L. A. S. BAZAAR

A Large Crowd Attend Its Opening.

DESCRIPTION OF THE BOOTHS

Voting for the Most Popular Candidate for Sheriff—Other Interesting Features.

The Catholic Ladies' Aid society opened their bazaar last evening in Armory hall and it was visited by a large number of people. The affair is given for the benefit of the poor of this city, regardless of sect, and is worthy of patronage by the liberally inclined.

These handsome booths are in place at which various articles are for sale and the ladies in charge did a good business last evening. The pink booth is in charge of Mrs. W. J. Williams and Miss Lizzie Foin, assisted by Mrs. T. G. Hart, Mrs. W. D. Crichton and Misses Ora Davidson, Belle Lampe and Mabel Cain.

The booth is handsomely draped in pink and surmounted by a large Japanese umbrella. It is illuminated by Japanese lanterns. The ladies have on sale pretty room decorations of all kinds, many of them made by themselves. At this booth are received votes for the most popular little lady in Fresno and the winner, who will be announced next Monday evening, will receive the handsome doll on exhibition. When

The REPUBLICAN reporter left last evening the vote stood as follows: Miss Zeta Fahy 76, Miss Mamie McGehee 7, Miss Mabel Egan 7 and Miss Maggie Johnson 5.

The red and cream booth, a very handsome one, is in charge of a bazaar of charming young ladies. They are Miss F. M. Lane, Misses Anna and Katie Belsus, Missie Johnson, Sadie Clark, Mollie and Edith Kennedy and Miss Eugenie Anderson. Pretty articles of needlework are for sale at this booth. Considerable interest is being taken in the vote for the most popular candidate for sheriff, which is being held in this booth. There is a property qualification and the vote was somewhat light last night, but the interest is bound to increase and the friends of the various candidates will do their work for their favorite through Monday evening. The vote at 10:30 last night was as follows:

Hansley 41, Jay Scott 24, H. H. Hoar 3.

The bright young ladies having charge of the lemonade and candy booth are Misses Annie Nicholson and Annie Parrott, assisted by Misses Lola Avina, Leona Dunne, Florence Puffer, Etta Hensley and Miss Henry. The booth is prettily decorated with palms and flowers. A large cake occupies a prominent place at this booth. It is being sold by slices, one of which contains a fine gold ring.

Miss William Fahy and Mrs. Egan have the ice-cream booth and are doing a big business. The refreshment booth, presided over by Miss Featherstone, Mr. Gordon, Mrs. Foin and Mrs. Schroeder, is never empty.

A program had been arranged for last evening, but it was only partially carried out. The band played an inspiring overture, after which Miss Katie Balsus sang a solo in her usually辉煌的 manner. It was evident that the young folks were very impatient to visit the booth, so the enjoyment was abbreviated and the program was abbreviated while the band continued to play.

Taking into consideration that it was the first night of the bazaar the attendance was very gratifying. The bazaar will be open this afternoon.

The program for this evening is as follows: Overture by band, instrumental solo by Miss Mabel Cain, recitation by Miss Opal Smart and instrumental solo by Miss Anna Nicholson. Those who wish to spend a very pleasant evening, and at the same time contribute to the success of a worthy cause, should not fail to visit the bazaar.

GOOD RESULTS

Of the Guard in the National Reservation.

Captain J. H. Dorst and wife are at the Palace on their way to the Presidio. The captain has fifty men in the National park, and they will probably remain there a week or ten, says the Visalia Times. Captain Dorst says if the troops are removed from the park they will rush into the park and kill deer and game which have gathered there for the year for safety. He says the hunters went into the park last year as soon as the troops left, and if he had his way the soldiers would stay in the park this year until January 1st.

Captain Dorst says he can notice the grous and deer becoming more plentiful in the park already. The sheep eat many berries that the grouse live upon and the exclusion of sheep from the park has made the berries ill with grouse. There are several townships guarded by the troops.

INFORMATIONS FILED

By District Attorney Tupper Yesterday Afternoon.

The district attorney yesterday filed three informations, as follows:

Against Henry Webber, for forgery. Webber is alleged to have forged a check on October 8th on the Bank of Madera for $2,000, uttering it to Richard Sweet.

Bill Williams, charged with burglary in entering the room of Walter Lefin at the Benito house and stealing some clothes.

N. Warner, charged with burglary.

Warren is alleged to have entered the room of R. W. Johnson at the Tombs on October 15th with burglarious intent.

Sontag's New Home.

Deputy Sheriff McCordle has returned from Folsom, where he took George Sontag, convicted of robbery. Sontag behaved himself very well during his trial and was put to work at his old trade, paper hanking and decorating, upon his return home. He, of course, hopes to secure a new trial and believes he will fare better the second time. He could not fare worse.

Good Price for Green Muscato.

Several refrigerator cars of green Muscato, second crop, were shipped from this city some time ago for the eastern market as an experiment. Mr. Gilmore, who was represented by one carload, received news from his investment yesterday. His carload was sold in St. Louis by auction for $1.25 per crate of 125 pounds.

After deducting all expenses Mr. Gilmore found that the sale netted him $30 per ton.

Accident to Farmer.

T. Langley, a farmer living twelve miles north of Sales station came into Madera yesterday for medical aid. While building a smoke house he fell off the roof and sustained a dislocation of the shoulder.

KITTRELL'S DEATH.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT BY HIS FINANCIAL.

A Heart-Breaking Scene—The Deceased Formerly of the People's Savings Bank of Fresno.

The funeral of young Byron C. Kittrell, who was accidentally shot near Modesto last Wednesday by his fiancee, Miss Annie M. Verney, took place at Modesto yesterday.

The deceased, together with Miss Verney and Joseph Shafe, were shooting at a target and birds with a shotgun and a self-cocking pistol carried by Mr. Kittrell. Miss Verney was fitting at a target and as Kittrell was coming up the bank she laughingly pointed the pistol at him and exclaimed, "Your money or your life."

It was the poor fellow's life, for at the same instant the revolver was discharged and hit him in the back of the head. Miss Verney and then that she had hit him, but thought he was only joking. She went to him laughing. When she saw the blood and the brain oozing from his head, she became hysterical and screamed in a heart-breaking manner.

The Modesto News prints the following biography of the deceased:

"Byron C. Kittrell, the deceased, was born in Isleton, Sacramento county, on March 25, 1872. When about 3 years old he moved with his parents to the ranch of William B. Harp, father of Mrs. Adeline and Mrs. Frank Kittrell, and there he remained until two years ago, when he went to Fresno and entered the Fresno business college, graduating from that institution last March.

"After leaving the school he was a clerk in the People's Savings bank of Fresno and remained there until July when he went to Stockton and acted in the employ of the electric street car company, until he came to Modesto last Saturday to visit his relatives, his friends and Miss Verney, who was to have come his wife in a short time, the two having been engaged to be married for some time past. His leaves mother and two brothers, William J. Kittrell and Frank Kittrell, and a twin sister, Miss Vilis Kittrell, and a host of friends.

"Byron was an exemplary young man polite and affable in manner, sober and moral in habits, indistructions, always happy and good natured wherever he was and liked and respected by all. He was just entering the realm of manhood.

JOLLY BACHELORS.

Last Friday evening, while this beautiful month was keeping her silent vigil over the earth, a jolly crowd of young folks, including the Fresno Mandolin and Guitar club, went out for a moonlight ramble and there it was two years ago, when he went to Fresno, he entered the Fresno business college, graduating from that institution last March.

"After leaving the school he was a clerk in the People's Savings bank of Fresno and remained there until July when he went to Stockton and acted in the employ of the electric street car company, until he came to Modesto last Saturday to visit his relatives, his friends and Miss Verney, who was to have come his wife in a short time, the two having been engaged to be married for some time past. His leaves mother and two brothers, William J. Kittrell and Frank Kittrell, and a twin sister, Miss Vilis Kittrell, and a host of friends.

"Byron was an exemplary young man polite and affable in manner, sober and moral in habits, indistructions, always happy and good natured wherever he was and liked and respected by all. He was just entering the realm of manhood.

One day he was set upon by the keepers and accused of poaching. "My name is So-and-so," he said, "and you will find me on the list of those who have permission." It was on the list, sure enough, but they were dissatisfied with his identity. They said rather rudely that he did not look like a privileged person of any kind. Where was his card? Unfortunately he had no card. They said that was only what they expected; he did not look like a person who had visiting cards.

One day he was set upon by the keepers and accused of poaching. "My name is So-and-so," he said, "and you will find me on the list of those who have permission."

It was not on the list, sure enough, but they were dissatisfied with his identity. They said rather rudely that he did not look like a privileged person of any kind. Where was his card? Unfortunately he had no card. They said that was only what they expected; he did not look like a person who had visiting cards.

You must come along with us, we take you into custody—both of you." Perhaps the personal peril sharpened my wits, for I suddenly exclaimed, "Is not your bachelorship married with your name?" He was a bachelor, and nobody had married it with her hair or otherwise, but my remark suggested a way out of the difficulty. Though his bachelorship was not marked his lines was, and he triumphantly showed it. To such drifts are some people—literally—put in order to establish their identity.

A Victim of the Good Cray.

One of the recruits to the little army of Russian exiles in London is I. Kolcheksky. Ten years ago he was exiled to Siberia for life for some trivial political offense, and like his fellow patriots, Volkovskiy and Stepanik, escaped to England, but unlike them took the bold course of escaping across Russia to Europe instead of proceeding eastward by China and America. Mr. Kolcheksky is thirty years of age, of medium height, with the scholar's stoop, high forehead, dark eyes and pale complexion. He is an intelligent man, active in the cause of Russian freedom.

He is manager of the Russian Free Press fund, which supplies to Russian books in the native tongue despite the czar's censorship. While in Warsaw prison awaiting his trial in solitary confinement, Kolcheksky incurred the displeasure of a Russian gendarme, who beat his bayonet through the prisoner's right hand, and left it frightfully mangled. There is no prison surgeon in Russia for "politics," and the wound was left to heal of itself.—London Star.

A Foreclosure Suit.

In the superior court yesterday Russell A. Rawlings brought suit against Silas Prather et al. to foreclose a mortgage on lot 6 to 12, block 1, Windsor Terrace addition to Fresno. The mortgage was given to secure a promissory note of $695.65 in favor of J. Brownstone, financial secretary, James Jarvis, treasurer, Major Will Scott, assistant treasurer, Miss Core Maxwell, marshal, A. H. Grey, deputy, Miss Cameron, sentinel, Mr. Parker, guard, Edith Lyon.

The installing marshals were C. G. Holdridge and M. M. Little Calhoun.

The lodge will shortly give a dramatic entertainment in which Miss Nellie Boyd will assist.

Three members of the Fresno drum corps were proposed for initiation last night.

GOOD NEWS.

Riverside Packers Will Stand by the Schedule.

The following special dispatch to The REPUBLICAN will be read with interest by the raisin growers of this country:

"RIVERSIDE, November 5.—The Riverside packers today signed an agreement to re-establish prices in accordance with the schedule adopted by the California State Raisin Growers' Association. The San Diego packers will meet next Tuesday.

WILLIAM HARVEY."

THE BARING INSURANCE.

In department two of the superior court yesterday argument was resumed on the petition of E. A. Cohen for an order instructing the receiver not to take certain property from the possession of the petitioner. Cohen claimed to have a bill of sale for the trays, sweat boxes, machinery, etc., in El Modena packing house and a chattel mortgage on the growing crop of grapes. The petition was denied by the court.

DENIAL BY CABINET AND FLORES.

Messrs. Cabaret and Flores deny indignantly that they ever represented to anyone that they could control the Mexican vote of this city, and they say the statement of Jesus Olivares, the tame man, to that effect is a falsehood made out of whole cloth. They say that they have not claimed to be able to influence the vote of anyone.

LEO SING FOUND GUILTY.

The jury in the case of Leo Sing, charged with the murder of Jno Lee, brought in a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree and fixed the sentence at life imprisonment. The sentence will be imposed by Judge Holmes tomorrow morning. The verdict is somewhat of a surprise as several witnesses for the prosecution were very weak.

KILLED BY A TRAIN.

Nat Mock, or Mock, for Yose, Kern county, was killed by being run over by a passenger train near Turlock last night. The coroner's jury found that the trainees were not to blame, the deceased having hard of hearing and having paid no attention to the repeated blow of the whistle.

SILVA ARRESTED.

For Burglarious Entry Into Alex Brown's House.

City Marshal J. D. Morgan left this morning for San Francisco to bring back John Silva, who committed burglary in the house of Alex Brown on the west side of the track. Chief Crowley arrested Silva yesterday from a description sent by telegram from Marshal Morgan. Silva is an old offender, and has done time in the penitentiary.

The burglary was committed a few days ago. Brown had befriended Silva, who sheltered one night, and also lending him money. During Brown's absence his son John Silva forced an entrance into the house and stole some clothes and a small amount of money.

Silva sold the clothes to S. C. Melchor, a second-hand dealer, whom they were found the following day by Marshal Morgan.

KILLED BY A TRAIN.

John Silva, who had befriended Silva, was killed by being run over by a passenger train near Turlock last night. The coroner's jury found that the trainees were not to blame, the deceased having hard of hearing and having paid no attention to the repeated blow of the whistle.

THE SWEDISH M. E. CHURCH.

Articles of incorporation were filed in the clerk's office yesterday by the Swedish Methodist Episcopal church of Washington, Oregon. The names of the trustees are Charles Erickson, Charles Swanson, Charles Teitel, G. S. Petersen and L. Dahligen.

A DAMAGE SUIT.

Grace Murphy and Mrs. J. Smith.

SHE WANTS $10,000 DAMAGES

For Having Been Maliciously Prosecuted by the Defendant.

The Allegation.

In the superior court yesterday Grace Murphy, a minor, by her guardian ad litem, G. A. Everts, brought an action for damages against J. Smith.

The complainant alleges that plaintiff is under 18 years of age, that is 12 years, and that on November 2, 1892, G. A. Everts was duly appointed her guardian ad litem by the superior court of this county.

On April 21st of this year at the town of Sausalito, continues the complaint, the defendant, J. Smith, falsely, maliciously and without reasonable or probable cause charged plaintiff before J. B. Watson, justice of the peace at Sausalito, with having feloniously stolen certain dresses of the defendant; and upon this charge procured said justice to commit plaintiff to the county jail.

While he was taking off his clothes he suddenly began to hiccough, and do what he might he could not stop. He tried all the known household remedies to lessen his hiccough but to no avail.

Then he was taken to the hospital, where he was treated with various drugs and medicines.

He was then sent to the hospital.

Thousands on Strike

A Difficulty With New Orleans Bosses

Makes 25,000 Men Quit Work

All Labor Unions in New Orleans Except the Printers, Lay Down Their Tools.

NEW ORLEANS, November 4.—Last night the Amalgamated association ordered a meeting of committees of the various labor organizations this afternoon for the purpose of ordering a general strike, alleging that the merchants and boatmen refuse to acknowledge the labor unions. On the other hand the merchants claim that the laborers refused to return to work according to an agreement made by the committee Wednesday. They are firm in their determination not to yield the right to select their own employees. They are raising a fund to protect those who desire to work in case a general strike is ordered.

A general strike has been called for noon tomorrow, and will include every union in the city except the typographical union. The expected stampede from the direction of the types did not occur, as the leaders convinced the men it was never intended for the printers to strike, as it was important to preserve the press as a means of communication with the public. The order will throw some 25,000 men out of employment, and serious results are feared.

A special meeting of the city council is called for tomorrow, and the militia has received secret orders to be in readiness in case of emergency.

GIVE THANKS.

President Harrison Selects the 24th as Thanksgiving Day.

WASHINGTON, November 4.—The following proclamation was issued this afternoon:

"The gifts of God to our people during the past year have been so abundant and so special, that a spirit of devout thanksgiving awaits not a day, but only the appointment of a day where it may have common expression. He has pleased垂下 at our doors; He has given us more love for free institutions in the creation of which His directing Providence is so conspicuous; He has awakened a deeper reverence for the law; He has widened our philanthropy by a call to succor distress in other lands; He has blessed our schools, and is bringing forward a patriotic and God fearing generation of citizens for our country; He has given us great increase in national wealth, and a wide diffusion of contentment and comfort in the homes of our people; He has given His grace to the surviving."

Now, therefore, I, Benjamin Harrison, President of the United States, do call upon all our people to observe, as we have been wont, Thursday, the 24th day of this month (November), as a day of thanksgiving to God for his mercies, and of supplication for his continued care and graces.

SMOOTH MR. CLAY.

He Plays a Fine Hand With Blood-horsemen.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 4.—Herman Waldrath, bookkeeper for J. Kahn & Co., tobacco merchants, has skipped out with at least $15,000 of his employer's money, and perhaps more. He was accompanied by a young woman known here as Annie Kitchell, who had been in the employ of the firm for four years and was trusted implicitly. Nearly all the money received and paid out by the firm passed through his hands.

Murder and Lynching.

NATCHITOCHES, November 4.—John Hastings, alias John Mahogany, was delivered into the custody of two agents of the state of Louisiana here Wednesday. They reached Jonesville, Wednesday night. Yesterday a mob of masked men overpowered them and took the prisoner out and hanged him. Within a week one white man and four negroes were murdered. The murderer, his two sons and a daughter paid the patty with their lives.

Played for Big Stakes.

NEW YORK, November 4.—Bob Fitzsimmons played the Coney Island Athletic club and the Crescent City Athletic club of New Orleans against each other for a fight between himself and Jim Hall. The Crescent City finally bid $40,000 and $1000 for Bob's signature. He hesitated, then the Coney Island bid $45,000. Bob declined to fight for the Crescent's offer. Then the Coney Islanders called Hall that Fitzsimmons had agreed to fight for $50,000 less than he could get.

New York, November 4.—Judge Newton cabled Jim Hall at London that Fitzsimmons declined to fight at New Orleans for $30,000. The Coney Island club bid up to $40,000, but Fitzsimmons refused to fight at the island. Judge Newton said Hall would turn to will make to fight Chonyzki.

Liverwurst to Live.

SANTA FE, November 4.—The jury in the Liverwurst case, after being out over thirty hours, failed to agree and were discharged. They stood eight for conviction and four for acquittal. Edward Liverwurst, a young newspaper editor, formerly of Headington, an son in law of Judge Overton, was arrested for the attempted murder on October 20, 1890, of Daniel Eberle of Cleveland. During the trial which has just closed the testimony taken tended to show that Liverwurst displayed considerable aberration at times and raised a doubt of his sanity. The feature of the trial was the use of hypnotism on the defendant and the taking of his testimony while in an alleged trance.

Lumpy and Slow.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 4.—Track lumps and slow. Five-eighths of a mile, all ages—Gardiner won. Fairless second, Jim R third. Time, 1.03.

Half mile, two-years—Tyrone won. Estrella second, Sweetfoot third. Time, 51. Seven and half furlongs—Captain Al won. Topgallant second, Initiation third. Time, 1.37.

One mile—Dinero won. Lady Gwynn second, Lehal third. Time, 1.40%.

Three-quarters of a mile—Joe Harding won. Democritus second. Charge third. Time, 1.17%.

Up for Some Time.

NEW YORK, November 4.—The sailor who brutally murdered Frank Riley, one of the crew of the United States ship Newark, was today found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced to twelve years and six months imprisonment, together with indemnity and costs.

Ryder Pardon.

COPENHAGEN, November 4.—The King of Denmark has granted a pardon to Henry B. Ryder, ex-American consul, on condition that Ryder leave the country.

Settlers Murdered.

WICHITA, November 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Taake, Swedish settlers on a claim three miles from Ovaceo, I. T., were found dead inside the house. Both were found shot, and the surroundings indicate murder.

WHAT WE DESIRED.

PROLIFIC REAL ESTATE MAN SAYS.—Chicago, November 4.—A special train from Dening, N. M., says a carrier arrived last night from Los Polines, Mexico, who brought news of more Indian murders and massacres by Kid and his band of Apaches Indians. In view of the depredations in Old Mexico the Mexican government detail of the Fifth Cavalry, numbering fifty men from the City of Chihuahua, has been ordered to the supposed hiding place of the savages in the Sierra Madres, and after hurried marches the troops reached the foothills on Tuesday morning. They're riding along unmercifully of danger when they were attacked from ambush by the savages, and Captain D. V. Duranantes and Lieutenant Garcia, who were riding in advance of the soldiers, were both shot through the head and instantly killed. When the troops recovered from their surprise battle was given the Indians but after a short skirmishing fled in which several soldiers were wounded, the renegades made their escape into the mountains. The troops pursued for a short distance, but then another band retreated. News of the disaster were sent to the City of Mexico and the government issued orders for 500 troops to pursue the marauders.

A Famous Hostage Burned.

SAN BERNADETTE, November 5.—A fire broke out this morning about 4 o'clock in the laundry shop of the Stewart hotel in this city. When first seen the smoke poured out from three points on the roof there being no fire walls in the entire building, which was 150 feet long, 200 feet deep. The flames spread in all directions, destroying one floor after another. By 6 o'clock the building was a mass of ruins and nothing remains to indicate where but a few hours before stood the street commercial hotel and business block in the city. The total loss aggregates about $200,000, distributed as follows:

Building, $15,000; furniture, $45,000.

A large part of the lower floor was occupied by the San Bernardino National Bank, loss, $3,000; Santa Fe ticket office, loss, $20,000; Connor & Drapers, real estate, loss, $50,000; Draper's news stand, loss, $15,000; Hahn's jewelry store, loss, $600; Wilmer & Chandler's finishing goods, loss, $6000; Bernard's saloon, loss, $6000.

Blood-Horse Races.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 5.—Three-quarters of a mile, 2-year-olds—Princess Lorraine won, Grandes second, Charter third. Time, 1.16.

Mile for 3-year-olds—Wildwood won, Esquivelza second, Santa Fe third. Time, 1.44.

Mile and a sixteenth—Wildwood won, Castro second, Blondjette third. Time, 1.41.

Mile and an eighth—Almont won, Milly Mora second, Santiago third. Time, 1.50%.

Mile and a sixteenth—Gurdulosa won, Little Mills second, Moto third. Time, 1.08%.

Sixth race, five-eighths of a mile—Gibson won, Joe Hardengton, Nipper third. Time, 1.08%.

The fact was discovered today that Charles Kingsley, a book maker, was robbed last night of two sacks containing $5300 in gold and greenbacks. The sacks were abstracted by some unknown person from a safe in the room where they had been carelessly placed.

ALL WILL NOT JOIN.

NEW ORLEANS, November 5.—The labor unions are working already, although today at noon was fixed for a suspension of all trades. Mayor Fitzpatrick has interested himself in behalf of the labore, and asked the merchants if they would receive a communication from the laborers in writing, and the merchants replied in the affirmative and a communication was forwarded to an arbitration committee shortly before noon. A number of organizations had already declared that they would not obey the mandate.

Anarchists Stirring.

URGUA, November 7.—The chief of police has documents which seem to show that the anarchists in Chicago are not dead.

It gives notice of a memorial meeting on November 11th, the anniversary of the execution of the Haymarket anarchists. Though carefully worded it is inflammatory throughout and advocates bomb throwing and the dagger for the Modern Caesar. It is pointing to those green passage, "must have been written by a woman," and anti-English French journalists of the period did not scruple to insinuate that Mr. Kinglake's strictures on the personal appearance of the emperor were due to the inspiration of an English woman known in Parisian society, who hated the third emperor as bitterly as the first one had been detested by Me. De Stael.

The authority, however, of the historian of the Crimean war was warmly so highly valued in England that the story of the emperor turning green on days of great peril to turn facial green, and on this circumstance he formed the opinion that the emperor, either at the period of the coup d'etat or on subsequent occasions as momentous, did not, so far as could be judged from his appearance, suggest the conclusion that he was a man of exceptional courage. It is said, indeed, that when Napoleon III read the first volume of Mr. Kinglake's history he observed with a smile to one of his confidants, "This," pointing to those green

passage, "must have been written by a woman," and anti-English French jour nals of the period did not scruple to insinuate that Mr. Kinglake's strictures on the personal appearance of the emperor were due to the inspiration of an English woman known in Parisian society, who hated the third emperor as bitterly as the first one had been detested by Me. De Stael.

The authority, however, of the historian of the Crimean war was warmly so highly valued in England that the story of the emperor turning green on days of great peril to turn facial green, and on this circumstance he formed the opinion that the emperor, either at the period of the coup d'etat or on subsequent occasions as momentous, did not, so far as could be judged from his appearance, suggest the conclusion that he was a man of exceptional courage. It is said, indeed, that when Napoleon III read the first volume of Mr. Kinglake's history he observed with a smile to one of his confidants, "This," pointing to those green

passage, "must have been written by a woman," and anti-English French jour

nals of the period did not scruple to insinuate that Mr. Kinglake's strictures on the personal appearance of the emperor were due to the inspiration of an English woman known in Parisian society, who hated the third emperor as bitterly as the first one had been detested by Me. De Stael.

The authority, however, of the historian of the Crimean war was warmly so highly valued in England that the story of the emperor turning green on days of great peril to turn facial green, and on this circumstance he formed the opinion that the emperor, either at the period of the coup d'etat or on subsequent occasions as momentous, did not, so far as could be judged from his appearance, suggest the conclusion that he was a man of exceptional courage. It is said, indeed, that when Napoleon III read the first volume of Mr. Kinglake's history he observed with a smile to one of his confidants, "This," pointing to those green

passage, "must have been written by a woman," and anti-English French jour

nals of the period did not scruple to insinuate that Mr. Kinglake's strictures on the personal appearance of the emperor were due to the inspiration of an English woman known in Parisian society, who hated the third emperor as bitterly as the first one had been detested by Me. De Stael.

The authority, however, of the historian of the Crimean war was warmly so highly valued in England that the story of the emperor turning green on days of great peril to turn facial green, and on this circumstance he formed the opinion that the emperor, either at the period of the coup d'etat or on subsequent occasions as momentous, did not, so far as could be judged from his appearance, suggest the conclusion that he was a man of exceptional courage. It is said, indeed, that when Napoleon III read the first volume of Mr. Kinglake's history he observed with a smile to one of his confidants, "This," pointing to those green

passage, "must have been written by a woman," and anti-English French jour

nals of the period did not scruple to insinuate that Mr. Kinglake's strictures on the personal appearance of the emperor were due to the inspiration of an English woman known in Parisian society, who hated the third emperor as bitterly as the first one had been detested by Me. De Stael.

The authority, however, of the historian of the Crimean war was warmly so highly valued in England that the story of the emperor turning green on days of great peril to turn facial green, and on this circumstance he formed the opinion that the emperor, either at the period of the coup d'etat or on subsequent occasions as momentous, did not, so far as could be judged from his appearance, suggest the conclusion that he was a man of exceptional courage. It is said, indeed, that when Napoleon III read the first volume of Mr. Kinglake's history he observed with a smile to one of his confidants, "This," pointing to those green

passage, "must have been written by a woman," and anti-English French jour

nals of the period did not scruple to insinuate that Mr. Kinglake's strictures on the personal appearance of the emperor were due to the inspiration of an English woman known in Parisian society, who hated the third emperor as bitterly as the first one had been detested by Me. De Stael.

The authority, however, of the historian of the Crimean war was warmly so highly valued in England that the story of the emperor turning green on days of great peril to turn facial green, and on this circumstance he formed the opinion that the emperor, either at the period of the coup d'etat or on subsequent occasions as momentous, did not, so far as could be judged from his appearance, suggest the conclusion that he was a man of exceptional courage. It is said, indeed, that when Napoleon III read the first volume of Mr. Kinglake's history he observed with a smile to one of his confidants, "This," pointing to those green

passage, "must have been written by a woman," and anti-English French jour

nals of the period did not scruple to insinuate that Mr. Kinglake's strictures on the personal appearance of the emperor were due to the inspiration of an English woman known in Parisian society, who hated the third emperor as bitterly as the first one had been detested by Me. De Stael.

The authority, however, of the historian of the Crimean war was warmly so highly valued in England that the story of the emperor turning green on days of great peril to turn facial green, and on this circumstance he formed the opinion that the emperor, either at the period of the coup d'etat or on subsequent occasions as momentous, did not, so far as could be judged from his appearance, suggest the conclusion that he was a man of exceptional courage. It is said, indeed, that when Napoleon III read the first volume of Mr. Kinglake's history he observed with a smile to one of his confidants, "This," pointing to those green

passage, "must have been written by a woman," and anti-English French jour

nals of the period did not scruple to insinuate that Mr. Kinglake's strictures on the personal appearance of the emperor were due to the inspiration of an English woman known in Parisian society, who hated the third emperor as bitterly as the first one had been detested by Me. De Stael.

The authority, however, of the historian of the Crimean war was warmly so highly valued in England that the story of the emperor turning green on days of great peril to turn facial green, and on this circumstance he formed the opinion that the emperor, either at the period of the coup d'etat or on subsequent occasions as momentous, did not, so far as could be judged from his appearance, suggest the conclusion that he was a man of exceptional courage. It is said, indeed, that when Napoleon III read the first volume of Mr. Kinglake's history he observed with a smile to one of his confidants, "This," pointing to those green

passage, "must have been written by a woman," and anti-English French jour

nals of the period did not scruple to insinuate that Mr. Kinglake's strictures on the personal appearance of the emperor were due to the inspiration of an English woman known in Parisian society, who hated the third emperor as bitterly as the first one had been detested by Me. De Stael.

The authority, however, of the historian of the Crimean war was warmly so highly valued in England that the story of the emperor turning green on days of great peril to turn facial green, and on this circumstance he formed the opinion that the emperor, either at the period of the coup d'etat or on subsequent occasions as momentous, did not, so far as could be judged from his appearance, suggest the conclusion that he was a man of exceptional courage. It is said, indeed, that when Napoleon III read the first volume of Mr. Kinglake's history he observed with a smile to one of his confidants, "This," pointing to those green

passage, "must have been written by a woman," and anti-English French jour

nals of the period did not scruple to insinuate that Mr. Kinglake's strictures on the personal appearance of the emperor were due to the inspiration of an English woman known in Parisian society, who hated the third emperor as bitterly as the first one had been detested by Me. De Stael.

The authority, however, of the historian of the Crimean war was warmly so highly valued in England that the story of the emperor turning green on days of great peril to turn facial green, and on this circumstance he formed the opinion that the emperor, either at the period of the coup d'etat or on subsequent occasions as momentous, did not, so far as could be judged from his appearance, suggest the conclusion that he was a man of exceptional courage. It is said, indeed, that when Napoleon III read the first volume of Mr. Kinglake's history he observed with a smile to one of his confidants, "This," pointing to those green

passage, "must have been written by a woman," and anti-English French jour

nals of the period did not scruple to insinuate that Mr. Kinglake's strictures on the personal appearance of the emperor were due to the inspiration of an English woman known in Parisian society, who hated the third emperor as bitterly as the first one had been detested by Me. De Stael.

The authority, however, of the historian of the Crimean war was warmly so highly valued in England that the story of the emperor turning green on days of great peril to turn facial green, and on this circumstance he formed the opinion that the emperor, either at the period of the coup d'etat or on subsequent occasions as momentous, did not, so far as could be judged from his appearance, suggest the conclusion that he was a man of exceptional courage. It is said, indeed, that when Napoleon III read the first volume of Mr. Kinglake's history he observed with a smile to one of his confidants, "This," pointing to those green

passage, "must have been written by a woman," and anti-English French jour nals of the period did not scruple to insinuate that Mr. Kinglake's strictures on the personal appearance of the emperor were due to the inspiration of an English woman known in Parisian society, who hated the third emperor as bitterly as the

The Weekly Republican

Fresno, Fresno County, California.

By the Fresno Republican Publishing Co.

The Great Newspaper of Central California.

Largest Circulation. The Most News.

Taxes on Subscriptions

(Strictly in Advance)

Weekly Republican, one year, by mail $2.50

Weekly Republican, six months, by mail $1.25

Daily Republican, one year, by mail $3.00

Daily Republican, six months, by mail $1.50

THE BATTLE ENDED.

The national campaign of 1892 ended yesterday, and the American people have again decided so far as the power of their franchise controls the action of parties, what the policy of the government shall be for the next four years.

The result is in doubt, with the chances up to the hour of going to press in favor of the election of Cleveland, owing to Democratic success in New York and the defection of Republicans northwestern states, which have probably given majorities for the electors of the People's party.

The partial returns from this state and county indicate that California has stood loyally by the Republican ticket, and that in Fresno county the Democratic majority has very largely decreased and that the county ring has been practically annihilated. This, as a matter of course, is based upon partial returns, but they leave little if any doubt that the bosses and the Holdfasts have been repudiated by the people.

The uncertainty of the results, both in the local and national elections, are such that comment may properly be reserved until further returns have placed the results beyond doubt.

The agony is over.

No kicking, please.

The People's Party was in it.

We're all citizens, remember.

G. CLEVELAND, President—after March 4th.

Take your medicine cheerfully, gentlemen.

The bosses have a look of painful ex-pertise.

This blanket ballot is all wool and two yards wide.

Now we can bury the hatchet for another four years.

All the fat men in the country must have stood in with Girver.

The Australian ballot may have its de-fects, but it also has its advantages.

The little rubber stamp talks louder than a campaign orator.

THERE WAS A full vote cast in Fresno yesterday—full in numbers but numerically sober.

The friends of the late Louis McWhirter voted in every precinct in Fresno county yesterday.

The people have spoken. Whatever the result, good people will cheerfully accept the popular verdict.

The tail of that Tammany animal stands no higher than the stute of Liberty enlightening the world.

Even the people who don't admire Cleveland will pray for his good health for four years from March 4th.

That rubber stamp got in its work yesterday in great shape. It's little, but it does a whole lot of business.

A thousand people of the nation are thankful that the Milwaukee breweries escaped the destructive conflagration.

Now that the country is saved politically, let all units in pulling together for the general interests of Fresno county.

Some people still vote the straight local ticket whether it suits them or not. They prefer poor politics to good government.

That Tammany tiger is a whole me-nagerie, with a circus attached and the biggest fat man on earth as the main attraction.

One advantage of the Australian system, it makes it important to keep the voter sober instead of getting him drunk before he casts his ballot.

The Republican county central committee deserves unanimous vote of thanks for the untiring and able efforts it has put forth in this campaign.

That tiger of Tammany has claws twelve-inches long, stripes bigger than the bellyband of Mars, and a tail that can be seen clear across the continent.

This over-worked editor can now go back to the pleasant topics which enthrall the public mind when the curtain is rung down on the political campaign.

People who claim to believe that THE REPUBLICAN does not wield a wide influence with the voters of this county, may have occasion to change their minds when the returns are all in.

RECENTLY the news came from Mexico of the utter extermination of a village of Aztecs by Mexican soldiers. The village is, or was, in the state of Chihuahua. The inhabitants were industrious and peaceful until driven to desperation by the extortions of government officials.

When no longer able to pay the taxes demanded they made defiance to their oppressors. Troops were sent to subdue them. The assailants were at first repulsed with considerable slaughter, President Diaz, it is stated, ordered a larger force to the scene, with instructions to subdue the village unless its people surrendered. The Indians took refuge with their families in the church and awaited the advance of the Mexican soldiers, who outnumbered the Aztecs about forty to one. The latter fought with a courage worthy of the race of Montezuma and Guatemala. Not a man of the Indians survived, but they said to have killed 350 Mexicans, or at least ten for every Indian slain. History has no record of a more heroic defense than that of those brave and valiant Indians, driven to death by intolerable oppression.

The incident is another dark entry to the long list of crimes perpetrated by Spanish-American against the native races of this continent, and it is a stain on the administration of President Diaz.

The over-worked bozo may now take a much needed rest.

WHY IT HAPPENED.

It is very easy for an ardent Democrat to tell why the country has gone Democratic by an unusually large majority—but as easy in fact as it is for a Republican to tell why Fresno county elected a majority of the Republican ticket. It is not quite so easy for a Republican to tell why the nation has declared in favor of the platform and the nominees of the Democratic party.

Nothing is to be gained, however, by the party, the newspaper or the individual, in trying to cover up or explain away those things which are evident to every thinking person. The Democratic party platform declared explicitly for the abolition of the protective system, and while the contest was only decided in part upon the tariff issue, the result cannot be considered anything less than a declaration in favor of an abandonment of the protective system. This being the case there is nothing left for the party in power but to put its doctrines in force and try their merits by the supreme test of actual experience. It is the only way, evidently, in which the issue can satisfactorily determine, and it may as well be tried now as any other time.

We believe that time will demonstrate to the full satisfaction of the most doubting that the protective system is essential to the highest and best interests of the nation, but if the contrary proves to be true, well and good. The greatest good to the greatest number is the only object worthy of being sought for, and by whatever means that is attained it will receive the approval of every truly patriotic citizen.

TODAY is a day of sadness mixed with the hilarity in this neck of the woods.

TODAY KNOW Nothing issue didn't work very well in the Sixty-third assembly district.

TALKING about stuffed things, the Tammany tiger is not that kind of an animal.

THAT Waterloo was a long time coming, but the bosses are into it clear up to their necks.

THE OFFICIAL count may be necessary to decide one or two close contests on the county ticket.

THE MANUFACTURERS of campaign uniforms and tin torpedoes are the calamity howlers now.

THAT state bank business was in the platform but it won't go. The people won't have it.

OBJECTIONS to the big ballot system are not coming to the front in any considerable number.

THE FELLOWS who did it all by their lone selves are abroad in the land and have a death grip on the public ear.

IF SOCIALISTIC ideas continue to spread in this country, state socialism will be the next great issue before the people.

THE REPUBLICAN of San Francisco will accept its defeat with becoming candor, and will only ask that the Democratic party fulfill its pledges to the people, and give the country a fair and honest trial of its plainly avowed policy.

THE CAUSES which produced a political revolution in Fresno county are as plain that they cannot be misunderstood. It was a revolt of the people against a political combination of bosses and office holders, which had by reason of long continuance in power become arrogant and unmindful of the public; and had resorted to unfair means in order to perpetuate themselves in power. The people had submitted long and patiently, but the day of reckoning finally came.

THE CHICAGO anarchists who are again threatening to destroy Chicago, should be requested to kindly wait until after that little affair next year.

NOW let California present a united front in opposition to a reduction of the very moderate duties which protect her infant raisin and fruit industries.

SAN FRANCISCO thinks she has been disgraced by the election of O'Donnell as mayor. Just how a disreputable mayor disgraces a rotten city has not been explained.

LOCALITY of residence appears to be the test by which people determine a man's fitness for office. Madara's vote for Smith Morris can only be accounted for in that way.

PEOPLE of all parties in Fresno county have something to rejoice over. What's the matter with having a joint ratification with several joints in it, and a general whoop-up, with real gladness and good fellowship galore?

THE HOWL of exultation going up from English newspapers over the prospect of again getting possession of the American markets will not, we think, be complicated with marked favor in this land of the free and home of high wages.

THAT BIG REPUBLICAN corruption fund which Grover was so badly situated about didn't seem to cut a very big figure at the polls. There were two reasons for this—there was no fund of that kind, and the American voter is not for sale to the extent that the next President will be.

THE PHILOSOPHER of the Indiana register concluded with the reflection that "whatever differences there may be upon this subject, there is practical accord among the people of this country upon maintaining a sound currency, internal improvements, the navy, and pensions."

THE TIGER of Tammany has claws twelve-inches long, stripes bigger than the bellyband of Mars, and a tail that can be seen clear across the continent.

THE OVERWORKED editor can now go back to the pleasant topics which enthrall the public mind when the curtain is rung down on the political campaign.

PEOPLE who claim to believe that THE REPUBLICAN does not wield a wide influence with the voters of this county, may have occasion to change their minds when the returns are all in.

RECENTLY the news came from Mexico of the utter extermination of a village of Aztecs by Mexican soldiers. The village is, or was, in the state of Chihuahua.

The inhabitants were industrious and peaceful until driven to desperation by the extortions of government officials. When no longer able to pay the taxes demanded they made defiance to their oppressors. Troops were sent to subdue them. The assailants were at first repulsed with considerable slaughter, President Diaz, it is stated, ordered a larger force to the scene, with instructions to subdue the village unless its people surrendered.

THE REPUBLICAN central committee deserves unanimous vote of thanks for the untiring and able efforts it has put forth in this campaign.

THE TIGER of Tammany has claws twelve-inches long, stripes bigger than the bellyband of Mars, and a tail that can be seen clear across the continent.

THE OVERWORKED editor can now go back to the pleasant topics which enthrall the public mind when the curtain is rung down on the political campaign.

PEOPLE who claim to believe that THE REPUBLICAN does not wield a wide influence with the voters of this county, may have occasion to change their minds when the returns are all in.

RECENTLY the news came from Mexico of the utter extermination of a village of Aztecs by Mexican soldiers. The village is, or was, in the state of Chihuahua.

The inhabitants were industrious and peaceful until driven to desperation by the extortions of government officials.

When no longer able to pay the taxes demanded they made defiance to their oppressors. Troops were sent to subdue them. The assailants were at first repulsed with considerable slaughter, President Diaz, it is stated, ordered a larger force to the scene, with instructions to subdue the village unless its people surrendered.

THE REPUBLICAN central committee deserves unanimous vote of thanks for the untiring and able efforts it has put forth in this campaign.

THE TIGER of Tammany has claws twelve-inches long, stripes bigger than the bellyband of Mars, and a tail that can be seen clear across the continent.

THE OVERWORKED editor can now go back to the pleasant topics which enthrall the public mind when the curtain is rung down on the political campaign.

PEOPLE who claim to believe that THE REPUBLICAN does not wield a wide influence with the voters of this county, may have occasion to change their minds when the returns are all in.

RECENTLY the news came from Mexico of the utter extermination of a village of Aztecs by Mexican soldiers. The village is, or was, in the state of Chihuahua.

The inhabitants were industrious and peaceful until driven to desperation by the extortions of government officials.

When no longer able to pay the taxes demanded they made defiance to their oppressors. Troops were sent to subdue them. The assailants were at first repulsed with considerable slaughter, President Diaz, it is stated, ordered a larger force to the scene, with instructions to subdue the village unless its people surrendered.

THE REPUBLICAN central committee deserves unanimous vote of thanks for the untiring and able efforts it has put forth in this campaign.

THE TIGER of Tammany has claws twelve-inches long, stripes bigger than the bellyband of Mars, and a tail that can be seen clear across the continent.

THE OVERWORKED editor can now go back to the pleasant topics which enthrall the public mind when the curtain is rung down on the political campaign.

PEOPLE who claim to believe that THE REPUBLICAN does not wield a wide influence with the voters of this county, may have occasion to change their minds when the returns are all in.

RECENTLY the news came from Mexico of the utter extermination of a village of Aztecs by Mexican soldiers. The village is, or was, in the state of Chihuahua.

The inhabitants were industrious and peaceful until driven to desperation by the extortions of government officials.

When no longer able to pay the taxes demanded they made defiance to their oppressors. Troops were sent to subdue them. The assailants were at first repulsed with considerable slaughter, President Diaz, it is stated, ordered a larger force to the scene, with instructions to subdue the village unless its people surrendered.

THE REPUBLICAN central committee deserves unanimous vote of thanks for the untiring and able efforts it has put forth in this campaign.

THE TIGER of Tammany has claws twelve-inches long, stripes bigger than the bellyband of Mars, and a tail that can be seen clear across the continent.

THE OVERWORKED editor can now go back to the pleasant topics which enthrall the public mind when the curtain is rung down on the political campaign.

PEOPLE who claim to believe that THE REPUBLICAN does not wield a wide influence with the voters of this county, may have occasion to change their minds when the returns are all in.

RECENTLY the news came from Mexico of the utter extermination of a village of Aztecs by Mexican soldiers. The village is, or was, in the state of Chihuahua.

The inhabitants were industrious and peaceful until driven to desperation by the extortions of government officials.

When no longer able to pay the taxes demanded they made defiance to their oppressors. Troops were sent to subdue them. The assailants were at first repulsed with considerable slaughter, President Diaz, it is stated, ordered a larger force to the scene, with instructions to subdue the village unless its people surrendered.

THE REPUBLICAN central committee deserves unanimous vote of thanks for the untiring and able efforts it has put forth in this campaign.

THE TIGER of Tammany has claws twelve-inches long, stripes bigger than the bellyband of Mars, and a tail that can be seen clear across the continent.

THE OVERWORKED editor can now go back to the pleasant topics which enthrall the public mind when the curtain is rung down on the political campaign.

PEOPLE who claim to believe that THE REPUBLICAN does not wield a wide influence with the voters of this county, may have occasion to change their minds when the returns are all in.

RECENTLY the news came from Mexico of the utter extermination of a village of Aztecs by Mexican soldiers. The village is, or was, in the state of Chihuahua.

The inhabitants were industrious and peaceful until driven to desperation by the extortions of government officials.

When no longer able to pay the taxes demanded they made defiance to their oppressors. Troops were sent to subdue them. The assailants were at first repulsed with considerable slaughter, President Diaz, it is stated, ordered a larger force to the scene, with instructions to subdue the village unless its people surrendered.

THE REPUBLICAN central committee deserves unanimous vote of thanks for the untiring and able efforts it has put forth in this campaign.

THE TIGER of Tammany has claws twelve-inches long, stripes bigger than the bellyband of Mars, and a tail that can be seen clear across the continent.

THE OVERWORKED editor can now go back to the pleasant topics which enthrall the public mind when the curtain is rung down on the political campaign.

PEOPLE who claim to believe that THE REPUBLICAN does not wield a wide influence with the voters of this county, may have occasion to change their minds when the returns are all in.

RECENTLY the news came from Mexico of the utter extermination of a village of Aztecs by Mexican soldiers. The village is, or was, in the state of Chihuahua.

The inhabitants were industrious and peaceful until driven to desperation by the extortions of government officials.

When no longer able to pay the taxes demanded they made defiance to their oppressors. Troops were sent to subdue them. The assailants were at first repulsed with considerable slaughter, President Diaz, it is stated, ordered a larger force to the scene, with instructions to subdue the village unless its people surrendered.

THE REPUBLICAN central committee deserves unanimous vote of thanks for the untiring and able efforts it has put forth in this campaign.

THE TIGER of Tammany has claws twelve-inches long, stripes bigger than the bellyband of Mars, and a tail that can be seen clear across the continent.

THE OVERWORKED editor can now go back to the pleasant topics which enthrall the public mind when the curtain is rung down on the political campaign.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

PROGRESS IN THE EMPLOYMENT OF POLICE MATRONS.

Miss Morgan and Her Work—Death in the Dress Train—An Ingenuous Luncheon—The Human Form—“Obey” in the Marriage Service.

The Lead a Hand for September has a valuable article by Mrs. Caroline A. Kennard on “Progress in the Employment of Police Matrons.” Mrs. Kennard not only devotes a great deal of time and strength to the matter of police matrons for this city, but she made a diligent study of the situation in other cities, and this article in Lead a Hand is the result. From this it appears that while police matrons have been employed it has always been brought about by the determined exertions of women, who initiated the movement, and who saw the urgent need of such matrons.

Prior to 1880 Mrs. Kennard finds that Portland, Providence and Boston had each one police matron, who served certain hours of the day and evening. In that year Chicago had ten matrons, day and night, for all arrested women. Now it has twenty-three in divided districts.

In 1887 Massachusetts, after repeated defeated efforts, encouraged by the results in Chicago, passed a law providing for police matrons for all cities having 30,000 or more inhabitants. Philanthropic women in New York next took up the work—hindered and discouraged just as women in other places had been—but with like success in the end. Buffalo has two matrons, and one in the jail, for which one woman writes, “we had to fight hard and long.”

Philadelphia has eleven police matrons, who have charge of all women during the time they are under arrest.

Manchester and Nashua, in New Hampshire, have each one matron. New Orleans has one who serves in the jail.

There is one in San Francisco, but she never appeals to the most degraded.

The chief of police there says he will allow no woman to be humiliated by such association.

But these are the very women who most need the help of their own sex. Massachusetts has twenty-two police matrons—in Boston, two each in Cambridge and Fall River, one each in Lawrence, Lynn, Lowell, New Bedford, Worcester, Springfield and Holyoke; but a number of the larger cities ignore the enactment which requires a matron where there are 30,000 inhabitants.

Another alternate step has been taken in Massachusetts by the appointment of a woman as “probation officer.” She visits the women before they are taken to court in Boston, and while there and later assists those under her care in all ways possible.

An agent of the Society for Aiding Discharged Female Prisoners is always on duty, and takes to the Hospital home all women who may and will go.

Mrs. Kennard's article is a very useful, interesting and instructive one, and should be read in full.

FAST OYSTER OPENERS.

Workmen in New York City Who Take Oysters Out of Their Shells.

The crack oyster openers of New York can easily hold their own against the rest of the world as “lightning operators,” as they are called.

One of the veterans is Dick Balmer, who has opened 9,000 oysters in a day of twelve hours, and can now average 7,500 in a day of twelve or thirteen hours' work.

Mike Foley, who may well be termed a lightning operator, and is now in his fifties, has opened as many as 9,500 oysters in one day, and on ordinary days, if he pushes himself, he can easily get away with 6,000 oysters.

Of course the oysters opened are large and small, just as they come, as if they were all small, and the opening could be done much more rapidly.

Mike Foley is good for an average of and so is an expert known as

“Woman as ‘Dad’ George.”

He is a good worker in opening 500 oysters.

Mike Foley probably cannot be beaten.

Oysters are rapidly, of course, prepared in great deal of experience in handling them, but there also seems to be a lack about it that every oysterman cannot acquire.

Some men, for instance, can open 4,000 oysters a day, and they will not go much above that after years of work in this line.

The twenty-seven men employed by Alex Frazer on the North River will average 5,000 oysters a day, which is a much higher average than is reached by the majority of the crews around New York. These men also can turn out when required, 15,000 oysters a day in all, which is 15,000 oysters above the average of 5,000 a man. There are very few oyster scows in the market can equal this average from week to week.

It must also be considered that on some days work begins at 6 o'clock in the morning and on others at 8 o'clock.

There was an oyster opening match about a year ago between Mike Foley and Jack Gillon. The match was to decide which man was the quicker at opening 1,000 oysters. Gillon was up 57 minutes, beating his opponent by only seven oysters. Foley has opened 11,300 oysters at one sitting.

Dick Balmer has appeared in sixteen oyster opening matches and lost only two of them. Most of the contests were over the opening of 100 oysters. At one time Balmer opened 100 oysters in 4 minutes and 22 seconds, which is now the best “straight knife” record. Balmer has also opened 1,000 oysters in 68 minutes. The two matches in which he was defeated he lost to John Gillon. The first match was best two out of three records in opening 100 oysters, but owing to a dispute Balmer refused from the contest, leaving the match to Gillon. At the second match Balmer was beaten by eight oysters.

Among the lightning operators on William Foster's scow the most conspicuous undoubtedly is “Black Frank,” as Frank Barrett, who is as white a man as any other white man in this country, is dubbed by his associates.

Mr. Barrett has spent a good many years in the south, and from his association there in a business way with the darkness he came to be called “Black Frank.”—New York News.

Discarded India Rubber Utilized.

It is a matter of common knowledge that India rubber goods even of the highest quality are perishable. Although not subject to any great wear and tear the time comes when the rubber loses its elasticity and becomes soft and rotten.

Hitherto such perished rubber has represented a waste material for which no use could be found, but by a process recently invented the perished rubber can be made, it is said, once more serviceable.

By incorporating the waste rubber with certain hydrocarbons and with a proportion of Trinidad asphalt, by adding to the mixture certain vegetable oils and submitting the product to heat, there is produced a substance to which the name of “blondite” has been given. It can be made hard and dense or soft and pliable by modifying certain parts of the process, and it seems to be applicable to most of the various purposes for which pure rubber is used.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Cutaway Coat.

The cutaway frock coat may be worn at any time during the day, and is really the most useful all around garment in the vocabulary. The man in the black cutaway of full finish cloth is dressed for any emergency that may arise during the hours of the day. It is suitable for the afternoon tea and for the morning stroll.

It has been worn with excellent effect with the top hat at the noon meeting—indeed its efficiency and becomingness is so apparent that many of the more conservative gents have been converted through their jealousy to this garment of剪裁 (tailored) elegance to the more distinguished interloping lines of the long tail double-breasted frock.—Clothes and Furnishings.

Amidst the Long Dresses.

Now that ladies are taking to riding bicycles we may expect to hear of their taking part in races against members of the steamer and it may be added, more conveniently dressed, sex. No ladies yet has attempted to beat Mr. Shoreland's marvelous ride of 267 miles on the road in twenty-four hours, but Miss Dudley, a well known rider, has accomplished a feat which would have been wonderful for any rider not so very long ago.

That lady has just ridden from a spot near Hitchin to Lincoln, a distance of 100 miles, or in little more than seven hours, or at the average speed of nearly fourteen miles an hour. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are well known as tandem riders, and they have won many races together, but this is perhaps the first record of a lady cyclist holding her own with a man.

In view of the recent cholera pest it seems a timely moment for the director of public safety or board of health to issue a notice warning against this disease breeding fashion of women gathering up the street dirt on their garments.

If a woman's own sense of cleanliness is not sufficient warning of the danger, then let the police be authorized to generally remind every woman whose dress is trailing on the street dirt of her garments.

It is a good idea to have a small pocket of sputum from pavements and rooms of our railway stations. From one of these dresses dragged over the streets a few times I was able to demonstrate the presence of several tubercles bacilli on an inch microscopic slide, on which a little dirt off the dress was placed.

Now that ladies are taking to riding bicycles we may expect to hear of their taking part in races against members of the steamer and it may be added, more conveniently dressed, sex. No ladies yet has attempted to beat Mr. Shoreland's marvelous ride of 267 miles on the road in twenty-four hours, but Miss Dudley, a well known rider, has accomplished a feat which would have been wonderful for any rider not so very long ago.

That lady has just ridden from a spot near Hitchin to Lincoln, a distance of 100 miles, or in little more than seven hours, or at the average speed of nearly fourteen miles an hour. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are well known as tandem riders, and they have won many races together, but this is perhaps the first record of a lady cyclist holding her own with a man.

In view of the recent cholera pest it seems a timely moment for the director of public safety or board of health to issue a notice warning against this disease breeding fashion of women gathering up the street dirt on their garments.

If a woman's own sense of cleanliness is not sufficient warning of the danger, then let the police be authorized to generally remind every woman whose dress is trailing on the street dirt of her garments.

It is a good idea to have a small pocket of sputum from pavements and rooms of our railway stations. From one of these dresses dragged over the streets a few times I was able to demonstrate the presence of several tubercles bacilli on an inch microscopic slide, on which a little dirt off the dress was placed.

Now that ladies are taking to riding bicycles we may expect to hear of their taking part in races against members of the steamer and it may be added, more conveniently dressed, sex. No ladies yet has attempted to beat Mr. Shoreland's marvelous ride of 267 miles on the road in twenty-four hours, but Miss Dudley, a well known rider, has accomplished a feat which would have been wonderful for any rider not so very long ago.

That lady has just ridden from a spot near Hitchin to Lincoln, a distance of 100 miles, or in little more than seven hours, or at the average speed of nearly fourteen miles an hour. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are well known as tandem riders, and they have won many races together, but this is perhaps the first record of a lady cyclist holding her own with a man.

In view of the recent cholera pest it seems a timely moment for the director of public safety or board of health to issue a notice warning against this disease breeding fashion of women gathering up the street dirt on their garments.

If a woman's own sense of cleanliness is not sufficient warning of the danger, then let the police be authorized to generally remind every woman whose dress is trailing on the street dirt of her garments.

It is a good idea to have a small pocket of sputum from pavements and rooms of our railway stations. From one of these dresses dragged over the streets a few times I was able to demonstrate the presence of several tubercles bacilli on an inch microscopic slide, on which a little dirt off the dress was

THE CATHOLIC FAIR.
PARTY AND POPULAR GIRL CANDIDATES.

A Close and Hard Contest Between Marion Williams and Zita Fahey.

Pink and white lace draperies, blue-eyed dolls with fairen hair, and enchanting maiden blouses and bracelets in the flesh, the sweet strains of music that set French hearts tingling for the dance, and last and best of all, the superb and hypnotic presence of Lord Chesterfield Gallagher was the bait that exhausted willing dollars from the pockets of visitors at the Catholic fair last night.

Many of the patrons of the fair were away at the theater or at the political headquarters warming their hopes as to the result of the election today, and it was not until a late hour that the dramatic contingent put in appearance, and then

"On with the dances; let joy be unconfined."

"No sleep till morn when you're a pleasure."

"To chase the flying hours with nimble feet."

Or words to that effect.

It was an oasis in the desert of politics and business. Almost all the Protestant churches were represented, W. D. Grady shrieked himself hoars for thirty minutes selling dolls and nick-nacs, and he carried the jury with him every time.

The ballot for the most popular child stood at the end of the hall, Mrs. Fabyan $60, Marion McKenzie $60, Marion Williams $30, Jessie Collier $30, Mabel Williams $15, S. T. Vian $5, Mabel Gruner $1.

After Maggie Mather had expired on the bosom of her house, and after Chesterfield Gallagher had absorbed two tears in a Belfast linen handkerchief—more power to him—the crowd surged into Armory hall.

The main event of the evening was the voting for the most popular child. There were six candidates, but at the close all drew out but Marion Williams and Zita Fahey.

Mrs. Parker Lyon, who parts his hair and has him in the middle at the same time, officiated as an anchorite. One minute before the polls were closed Miss Williams had $40 votes and Miss Fahey $35 votes. Then there was a lull. After a while William Fahey asked Mr. Lyon "How much time is left?"

"A quarter of a minute," responded Mr. Lyon, in a velvet plush upholstered harpion.

J. P. Congrave then cast five votes for Marion Williams.

Mr. Fahey's hair stood at the end, and while Mrs. T. G. Hart was chalking down the 845th role for Miss Williams, Mr. Fahey dug down into the depths of his right hand pantaloons pocket and produced a $20 bill which he hastily thrust into Auctioneer Lyon's hand with the remark, "200 votes for Miss Fahey."

Just at that moment the referee called time, and Mrs. Hart announced that Miss Williams had won.

Mr. Fahey assumed that his daughter had won, because the 840th role had been placed in the auctioneer's hand before time was called. In this claim he was supported by several spectators.

There was some dispute after this, and Mr. Fahey said: "You can reopen the polls right now, if you wish; I have $500 in this pocket book to put up for my girl."

This evidently clinched the matter for Miss Fahey took the doll.

There were no presentation speeches. The following were the winners of the prizes:

Mrs. Jerry Ryan, the sideboard.

Napoleon Wien, gold chain.

Mr. W. P. Conant, typewriter.

Mr. Grant, gold-toothed cane.

Mr. Hyde, fruit dish.

W. H. McKenzie, cream shawl.

Mr. J. O. Horie, blue scarf.

Marie McKenzie, blue satin pillow.

William Fahey, key rack.

Mrs. Conant, child's set.

Dr. Church, blue plush box.

Laura Carty, sofa pillow.

Dr. Yancey, pillow shams.

Agnes Fahey, chair cushion.

The fair was eminently successful and the ladies who helped put it on had the happiness of seeing their exertions in the cause of charity. Although a Catholic banner it was not a sectarian affair at all. It was for charity and several Protestant ladies assisted in the good work.

CIVIL MATTERS

Disposed of in Department 1, Superior Court.

Judge Harris yesterday disposed of the following matters:

Gray vs. Long et al.; judgment for plaintiff as prayed for.

Humphrey vs. Blasingame; judgment for plaintiff.

Bennett vs. Warner; plaintiff take nothing; judgment for defendant for costs.

Walker vs. Winchell; judgment for plaintiff.

A. A. Blasingame vs. J. C. Humphreys; motion to tax costs dismissed.

Huber vs. Shore; dammusr of defendant overruled and ten days given to answer.

A. J. Brooks vs. W. F. Beck & Co.; motion for change of venue granted; trial next Monday.

R. B. Johnson vs. Sam Zutz; motion of L. D. Cory to file complaint in intervention denied. Stay of proceedings for five days.

W. D. Swetser vs. A. E. Baker; motion to strike out entire portions in amended complaint granted. Dammarer to amended complaint estreated.

Fresno Canal & Irrigation company vs. C. O. Clay; demurrer to amended complaint taken under advisement.

Mary J. Blasingame vs. M. L. Pyke et al.; motion to set aside default granted, in case defendant pays $10 within five days.

Kutner-Goldstein company vs. S. Simon et al.; case tried and taken under advisement.

Kroger School.

The following are the names of the pupils who obtained more than 85 per cent in the studies of their grades for the month ending November 1st: Len Wolfson 98, Karl Weisler 96, Henry Brink 96, George Macdonald 93, Anna Bell 98, Marie Wilson 98, Ethel Brown 26, Guy Dunham 98, Vand Hagen 95, Thomas Hendry 93, John Anton 97, Beppie Brown 99, Willie Brooks 27, Viola Landrum 94, Mandie Hendry 90, Martha Hutchens 90, Harold Newmark 95, Benjamin Newman 96, Ismael Husted 98, Walter Brooks 87, Guy Wofford 86, Walter Brooks 91, Willie Wofford 86, George O'Brien 93, Miller Landrum 97, Sadie Hinckley 93, Claudia Hendry 93.

Those who obtained over 90 per cent in the primary grade are: John McCherry, Arthur Kincaid, Rosalie Gilham, Leslie Case, Theodore Abbott, Ernest McJunkin, Eddie Lewis, Alvin Voice, Hazel Holmes, Marie McCherry, Verna Hendry, Bertha Kincaid, Grace Huntz, R. McCourt, Principal.

Mrs. T. J. Barker, Assistant.

Dr. Vincent.

Nothing has been heard yet from Dr. Vincent's attorneys. Vincent was sentenced to be hanged on November 11th, so only a few more days remain in which to take steps to prevent the carrying out of the sentence on that date.

Henry recently sold his Los Angeles home in other states and received word in a telegram that he had been shipped.

There is no probability of Vincent's being hanged before the McNulty case has been settled.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

The Catholic Fair, Politics and Miss Mather Prevented the Meeting. The city council was to have met last night, but owing to the fact that the Catholic fair was in progress, and that Margaret Mather was Julietting her "Romeo" at the Barton, the meeting was postponed until Thursday evening.

The following bills were received by the clerk:

SURVEY FUND.

G. Brainard, blacksmithing..... 4 85
Kutner-Goldstein Co., carpentry..... 2 97
A. Shultz, sewer work..... 22 65
W. B. Robinson, sewer work..... 22 65
John Marshall, sewer work..... 13 00
J. H. Anderson, sewer work..... 14 10
John Mite, sewer work..... 14 00
DAILY REPUBLICAN.

STREET FUND.

H. E. Burleigh, street sweeping..... 160 00
L. Einstein & Co., broom..... 50 00
A. Weitner, spinning..... 6 00
Kutner-Goldstein Co., supplies..... 9 75
G. G. Spaulding, street work..... 10 75
Robert Epperson, grain and hay..... 50 00
P. F. Dixey, street work..... 50 00
J. M. Mite, street work..... 6 00
GENERAL FUND.

E. Steves, hauling prisoners..... 1 00
J. W. Dodson, hauling prisoners..... 3 50
Davies & Dimonk, lumber..... 2 00
J. M. Bridges, hauling manure..... 5 00
A. R. Brook, hauling manure..... 5 50
S. A. Watts, rebate taxes..... 5 00
M. D. Flores, rebate taxes..... 26 00
W. H. Lester, rebate taxes..... 26 00
F. D. Vandall, rebate taxes..... 4 75
William Degeer, rebate taxes..... 5 00
Macrae Bros., horseshoeing..... 13 50
McKee & Green, horseshoeing..... 10 00
Kutner-Goldstein Co., supplies..... 12 60
Barrett, Hicks & Co., supplies..... 12 60
George H. Munroe, drugg..... 8 75
Kaufman & Co., hardware..... 12 20
Dunshoo, Emmings & Co..... 8 12
George A. Smith..... 5 00
A. Weilheimer..... 42 25
L. Schlesinger, blacksmithing..... 88 75
G. Brainard..... 3 50
T. P. Harrel, stoking..... 2 50
A. W. Anderson..... 12 50
J. H. Anderson, labor d'pt..... 40 00
J. H. Anderson, labor d'pt..... 10 25
J. E. Scott & Taffey..... 24 75
W. F. Y. Schenck, hydrants..... 29 00
" " " hose gasket..... 3 00
Gamewell Fire Alarm Co., indicator, etc..... 349 05
Gamewell Fire Alarm Co., character wheel..... 1 75
Sunset Telephone Co., telephone..... 16 00
Los Angeles Rubber Co., stamp, Mechanics Plating Mill, lumber..... 9 85
Union Ice Co., ice..... 7 00
Dr. Eichleman, pair horses..... 325 00
G. Edwards, veterinary services..... 30 00
Sam Adams, witness, witness..... 2 00
A. D. Cross, parades..... 69 50
Shay & Company, vending..... 12 00
Freight Milling Co., feed..... 9 05
A. N. Gray, feed for horses..... 10 00
J. D. Morgan, stamp..... 4 00
Leodore Hayes, hauling..... 3 00
A. W. Norris, police equip'n..... 22 75
DAILY REPUBLICAN.

TRUST FUND.

Fresno Gas & Electric Co..... 20 75
Fresno Gas & Water..... 100 00
Redden & Collins, coal..... 30 95
W. D. Veering, coal oil..... 4 02
B. T. Scott, bar sugar..... 1 00
O. H. Riegel, stationery..... 3 35

SALARIES.

Fire department..... $810
Police department..... 625
City officers..... 625

PERSONAL.

O. K. Kirby is up from Fowler.

A. Shawers was up from Visalia yesterday.

I. N. Hyde leaves for Dos Palos today to vote.

R. E. Mahony of Seattle is visiting Fresno.

W. C. Read and wife of San Francisco are in the city.

Harri Baldwin of Arizona is spending a few days in Fresno.

E. L. Gaynor of Rakersfield was in Fresno on business yesterday.

Captain C. H. Norris of Fowler had business in Fresno yesterday.

Mrs. W. M. Hughes was out Sunday for the first time in several weeks.

G. G. Patel, son of the millionaire manufacturer of Milwaukee, is in the city.

Frank Day and wife were in Fresno yesterday from their place near Selma.

A. B. Butler has returned from San Francisco, accompanied by Mrs. Butler.

Governor Markham passed through Fresno Sunday evening on his way back.

He was overjoyed to take her bearings your approval and perchance our board money?

Perhaps you will take some scraps for crazy patchwork?—New York Recorder.

A Thought for the City Relation.

Statistics show that insane asylum are peopled from the ranks of families' wives more than from any other source. No person can consider this without feeling sorry. The feeling is the same we experience for the overburdened car horse. His usefulness is great, but he is unappreciated, and one day he will break down and another will take his place in the hard lot to which he was born.

The city cousins who spend the summer with the farmer's wife have no wish to exchange places with her. Of all women she is the most versatile. She can grease a wagon, whitewash the chicken coop, paper a wall, drive the old cracker, burners a horse, be nurse, dairy maid, laundress, cook, housemaid, seamstress and advisory committee on all farm work outside and in.

She knows very little about the advancement of women or change of fashions. From seedtime to harvest and from year to year she fills the cellar with jam, preserves and apple butter until her poor overtaxed nervous system gives out—and what then?

Do you do anything to vary the monotony of her life save to bestow your presence and approval in the summer time?

What are you going to take her bearings your board money?

Perhaps you will take some scraps for crazy patchwork?—New York Recorder.

The Care of Brushes.

Do not neglect your paint brushes. Dip them in oil in containing benzine, turpentine or turpentine, then wash thoroughly with soap and hot water. Peeling is even better than soap; it removes the color rapidly and does not injure the hair. If you are well chiseled in clear water afterwards. Put the brush in a jar, handles down, and leave them to dry. One of the oldest signs in an artist's studio is the number of brushes disposed in various artistic bits of pottery in nooks and corners.

Some painters pride themselves on owning many hundreds of brushes of every possible style and size. Handsome brushes are ruined if left dirty; it makes the hairs come out, but the large brushes used in common work will not be injured by being left in water over night if you intend to use them for the same colors next day.

Burn your paint rags when you have done with them. Oily rags are very inflammable and sometimes take fire spontaneously when left in a heap in some corner.—Harper's Young People.

Badging.

Gratifying Him.

Because we don't have dust, they explain. "We never leave anything on the floor, let alone accumulate, and we like housework much better than playing lawn tennis in the lotus room."

First Girl—I like a man with a past. A man with a past is always interesting.

Second Girl—That's true; but I don't think he's nearly so interesting as the man with a future.

Third Girl—The man who interests me is the man with a present.—Judy.

Bitter—Certainly.—From the German.

(These three girls are exchanging confidences, not telling each other what sort of men they like best.)

First Girl—I like a man with a past.

Second Girl—That's true; but I don't think he's nearly so interesting as the man with a future.

Third Girl—The man who interests me is the man with a present.—Judy.

Debt Free, Fresh.

ROMEO AND JULIET.

A GOOD PERFORMANCE AT THE BARTON.

Mercutio Was Weak in the Knees, But Romeo Was All Right. Gallagher's Hit.

The following bills were received by the clerk:

SURVEY FUND.

G. Brainard, blacksmithing..... 4 85

Kutner-Goldstein Co., carpentry..... 2 97

